Start from Panmure Train Station, Ellerslie-Panmure Highway.

- 1. Cross over the highway.
- Turn left < onto walkway-cycleway that runs alongside Te Horeta Road.
- 3. Turn left < at the end and cross the bridge over Te Horeta Road.
- 4. Turn right > into Ireland Road.
- 5. Turn right > onto the Panmure Basin walkway (walking anti-clockwise).
- Turn left < after crossing the Jubilee Bridge and follow the path around the edge of the lagoon.
- 7. Turn right > into Cleary Road.
- 8. Turn right > into Ireland Road.
- 9. Turn left < onto the Ellerlise-Panmure Highway and return to the start.

If travelling by car there is parking in Cleary Road or William Harvey Place off Mt Wellington Highway.

www.walksinauckland.com
Unleashed Ventures Limited Copyright 2013
Item # AC045

Panmure Basin

Description: Mostly level path, only 2 slight inclines. Suitable for users of average fitness and mobility. Running shoes suitable in dry weather.

To see: Mt Wellington, boats, water birds

Time: approx. 45 minutes. (about 4 kms)

Buses: Queens Road, Panmure Trains: Panmure Train Station

Journey Planner—http://www.maxx.co.nz

Cafés: None nearby

Public toilets: 3 blocks within basin

area

Children's playgrounds: Cleary Road, Ireland Road, Petersen Reserve

Dogs: On leash only

Seats and tables only

Nearby Attractions: Lagoon Leisure and Fitness Centre, Lagoon Drive, Panmure.

Mini Train rides Sundays Ipm-4pm.

Queens Road Panmure for ethnic food.

Nearby Walk: Mt Wellington Explorer

The I.5-kilometre-diameter Panmure Basin erupted about 18,000 years ago. The crater was formed by a series of wet explosions that threw up volcanic ash. Water filled the crater after the volcanic activity ceased.